

A family scene from the movie 'Reluctant Nanny'. A man in a green shirt is holding a young girl in a bright pink dress. A woman in a yellow patterned top is smiling, and a young boy in a yellow shirt and tie is looking up at her. They are standing in front of a door with white curtains.

Reluctant Nanny

MOVIES

RED ARROW INTERNATIONAL

In this emotional new TV movie, Libby must choose between her dream job and the new life she has learned to love.

When her start-up company fails, Libby decides to pack up her life and move to Los Angeles for a new job. But Libby's first day at work soon turns into her last when her new boss admits to selling the company overnight!

As if things can't get any worse, she is mugged. She chases the culprit down the street until she runs into police officer Dan. Currently looking after two foster kids, Dan suggests that he hire her as a live-in nanny until either the kids find a permanent home or she finds a new job. Unwilling to turn down a job offer in her time of need, Libby accepts the position.

But playing house isn't as easy as it sounds, and the children's constant fear of abandonment forces Libby to really think about the responsibility she's taken on. As Libby and Dan grow closer to the kids, Libby suddenly feels as if she has her own family and realizes she's living the dream she never knew she had. As things are really starting to look up, she is offered another job...the job of her dreams; a job that would take Libby far away from her new family...

RELUCTANT NANNY

MOVIES // ROMANTIC COMEDY, 1 x 90'

www.redarrowinternational.tv

DIRECTED BY BRADFORD MAY

STARRING JESSY SCHRAM, AARON HILL, ELIZABETH ROHM, TAMARA TAYLOR, ALLEY MILLS

PRODUCED BY DOMAIN MEDIA IN ASSOCIATION WITH LARRY LEVINSON PRODUCTIONS FOR PIXL

ALL RIGHTS RESERVED © RED ARROW INTERNATIONAL

RED ARROW INTERNATIONAL